

In a million words or less.....
tell me about your child.

Your child is going to have a great experience this year. A key to his/her success will be our ongoing communication. To get the ball rolling, you are getting a homework assignment! In a million words or less tell me what you think I should know about your child. I've put a few questions below to get you thinking... but please, tell me anything!

- How does he or she learn best?
- Does she need to sit up front because it's hard for her to see the board?
- Are there things going on at home you think I should know about?
- Health needs?

I promise to hold in confidence what you write unless you tell me in your message that you would like me to share information with your child's other teachers. Take your time with this, but there must be a deadline. Please send in your response by Monday, September 12th. You can send it with your child or e-mail it to me at:

Looking forward to your response and a great year,
